THE TRIBUNE.

A Word to he Faint-Hearted.

The overwhelming triumph of Loco-Foceism in our recent Election has astonished by its magniende not only the ardent supporters of opposite principles, but even the victors themselves. The tables are turned against us, and victories as unexpectedly brilliant as our own achieved over us by the party we once thought prostrate.

Nothing can be more disheartening to us as papriots than a superficial contemplation of these reverses. It seems a dark hour for American Free dom; the anxious patriot already seems to see his Country's Star paling still further, and sickening even unto death, in the poisonous atmosphere of political demoralization, while his long-deferred and cruelly tantalized hopes of rescue seem about to be forced forward through another period of fearful uncertainty and danger. The 'Restoration ' is soon to made complete by a counter-revolution in Congress, and the bare thought of what that Loco-Foco majority will be, when let loose as it were, upon the country and set at their longed-for work of repeal and destruction, is fitted to make us shudder. Aside from the blighting influence of their legislation, there is terror in the thought that all the increased political enginery and all the servile crew of purchased missions in the Executive department throughout the land, from the thing acting as President, upwards, will be thrown into redoubled activity, with new facilities for corruption, with an open Treasury, and no eye to detect the uses to which its contents are applied, and the aid of a Loco-Foco Congress to crush the spirit of Freedom in this nation, and to triumph over the name and the pure principles of his country's truest friend, HENRY CLAY.

It is to be feared that this sombre view is the only one that many Whigs, not rightly 'discerning the signs of the times,' have courage to adopt .-Their hearts are sinking, and they are almost ready to conclude that all is lost. Far be it from me to cast upon any the shameful imputation that they can ever 'give up the ship' while one beam dings to another; but we ought not to be cast down. It is base for the defenders of Freedom to grow faint-hearted in their holy war! Their motto is Nil desperandum! If such is the spirit of our principles-if it is the pride of the Free that their unyielding struggles should outlive Hope itselfhow much more ought we now to press forward manfully, determined to conquer! It is false that our prospect is gloomy, except as our own supineness and discouragement may make them so. The craven traitor may seek to damp our arder, and speeringly tell us that we fight but as those who 'beat the air'; but, brothers, the BREACH will soon be before us, and there remains but the meantime of laborious preparation, and the final, tremendous and victorious charge! To be more explicit. In the present peculiar state of affairs, it is far better for us as a party, and by consequence better ultimately, though presently disastrous for the country, that we should be disrobed of our empty, nominal authority in Congress. The powers of the General Government have hardly been wielded by Whigs for one moment during these last fourteen years. Through several of the last of these disastrous years, the country has been, is still, sinking to ruin as rapidly as the weight of tyrannical legislation could depress it. With all this, the misapprehension has been general since the hollow triumphs of 1840 that the responsibilities of governing the nation, and the means of benefiting it, were in the hands of Whigs. Thus the Loco-Foce and ' Neutral' Press with dishonest perversity inculcate, and large bodies of the People, with amazing and provoking blindness, believe the oft-repeated falsehood that 'the Whigs have got the power, and yet will do nothing for the People!' But now certain men and things will be called by their right names among all parties. For example: the hypocrisy and the betrayal that have out-Judased Iscariot himself will no more be called 'conscientious consistency.' The full title of genuine and accepted Loco-Focos will no more be withheld by any from Tyler, his Cabinet and his Guard, and the last tattered shred will be torn from before their treachery by their own emboldened hands.

With this truth, that the sovereign majority have been cheated of their hard-earned victory and that the principles upon which it was gained bave had no trial since a period before the blight ofour prosperity began, made thus clearly palpable, and the pitiless lash of Loco-Foco misrule in the States and Nation sounding upon their backs, will the People of New-York or the other recreant States, in the renewed struggle against the natioual incubus, prefer to hug their chains? The notion is monstrously absurd! Let us not forget that our opponents, with all the advantages for deception which they have had and improved in a contest encumbered with a thousand local influences, with every thing favorable to them, and bringing out, as they always do, their whole force, have will effected less than they did in '40. This proves the People sound, and they will yet show themselves so when roused by HENRY CLAY. Gather, then, comrades, your strength for the conflict, and 'charge for the right!' 'Tis true, our Country's Star is flickering, and a barpy claw astriving to efface 'Excelsior' from the escutcheon side, to rehune their fading fires and quicken their tardy progress. Heaven bless them both, and lend them ever its brightest rays! Four not, falter not, for that Star was formed for a meridian course, and it shall never for a moment swerve till it blaze in the zenith.

NEW-YORK, HONDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 21, 1842.

FOUR DOLLARS A YEAR.

For The Tribune. Plan for conducting the Croton Water to Brooklyn, Williamsburg, &c. Mr. Editor:-The object of this communication is to suggest a plan, simple and feasible in it. self, by means of which the vast and almost indescribable benefits of an abundant supply of pure and wholesome water may be secured by the residents of Long Island, living adjacent to this city.

VOL. II. NO. 192.

Without stopping to enumerate the countless benefits the Aqueduct already confers upon our City, I will at once state my plan for conducting the Croton Water to Long Island-merely premising that the project has received the approbation of gentlemen whose opinions are entitled to the very highest confidence.

I propose to carry a duct, composed of the largest size iron pipe, from the Distributing Reservoir to the East River, and to continue it across the same, by placing it, in the form of an inverted syphon, upon the bettom; which may be easily done by means of the coffer-dam. This done,and, by the well-known law of hydraulics, the Croton will, forever after, roll his crystal waters. as well for our neighbors as for us.

Should any entertain doubt whether the scheme can be carried into execution, without robbing this city of some portion of the inestimable blessings which have been promised from the completion of the water works, it is only necessary to say that, as they now exist, they are capable of supplying double the quantity of water which is introduced into the city of London, with her million and a half of inhabitants; and twelve times that furnished to the city of Paris, with her population of seven hundred and fifty thousand. Let it be remembered, too, that by a slight modification of the present plan, in a few of its details, the supply may be increased at least threefold. Thus it will be perceived that, so far from there being any ground of apprehension on this score, the magnitude of the works is such as not only to guarantee to New York herself an adequate supply of water, when she shall have spread her giant arms over the whole island of Manhattan, but it is sufficient, also to enable her to share her treasure with her sisters, Brooklyn and Williamsburg, when they shall have increased in like proportion; and, i eed be, with Jersey City beside.

The most eligible point at which to cross th river can, of course, only be ascertained by careful scientific examination. It will probably be found to be, the foot of Rivington-street, where the width of the river is about nine hundred yards; the foot of Walnut-street, where the width is six hundred and thirty-five yards; or the foot of Forty-Secondstreet, at which point, by passing over Blackwell's Island, my opinion is, the object may be acconplished with greater facility and at less expense. han at any other. By adopting the last of these routes, an incidental advantage of some importance might be gained by this city. I mean the use of the water in the public institutions or Blackwell's Island. But either of the other routes would, perhaps, be equally effectual for conveying the water to Brooklyn, Williamsburg, the Navy Yard and the Marine Hospital.

I refrain, for the present, from going into an estimate of the outlay which would be required to carry out this enterprise; but I venture to express the opinion that the sum of Two Millions of Dollars could not be as wisely expended by Brooklyn, purchasing of the Corporation of New-York, the perpetual privilege of using the Croton Water .-I have named the sum of Two Millions of Dollars be that sum too much or too little for the benefitconferred, the several parties interested will not require to be teld that the present is the best time for effecting the purchase.

Let the enlightened and public-spirited citizens of Brooklyn and Wiliamsburg move then, at once in the matter; and generations yet unborn, will do grateful homage to their far-seeing wisdom and AMERICANUS. munificence.

Recent events, howver discouraging in the view of the short-sighted, have but trengthened our confidence in the speedy triumph of those emeiples, and our conviction that HENRY CLAY and he nly can rally around him the now scattered hosts of the victors of 1219, and lead them on to a new triumph, as sig-ad, as circious, but more enduring and beneficent. WONDERFUL EFFECTS OF SANDS'S SARSAPA-RILLA IN NORWICH.

RILLA IN NORWICH.

Read the following from Mrs. Vm. Phillips, who has long resided at the Falls. The facts are well known to all the old residents in that part of the city.

MESSRS. A. B. SANDS & Co., SIRS: Most gratefully do 1 embrace this opportunity for stating to you the great relief I obtained from the use of your Sarsaparlia. I shall also be happy, through you, to publish to all who are afflicted, as I lately was, the account of my unexpected, and even for a long while despaired of care. Mine is a painful story, and trying and sickening as is the narrative of it, for the sake of many who may be so surely relieved, I will briefly yet accurately state u. ret accurately state it.

Nineteen years ago last April a fit of sickness left me with an Erysipelas eruption. Dropsical collections immediately took place over the entire stringe of my body, causing such an enlargement that it was necessary to add a half yard to an enlargement that it was necessary to add a half yard to the size of my dresses around the waist. Next followed, upon my limbs, ulcers, painful beyond description. For years, both in summer and winter, the only mitigation of my suffering was found in pouring upon those parts cold water. From my limbs the pain extended over my whole body. There was literally for me no rest, by day or by night. Upon lying down these pains would shoot through my system, and compel me arise, and, for hours together, walk the house, so that I was almost entirely deprived of sleep. During this time the Erysipeias continued active, and the ulcers enlarged, and so deeply have these eaten, that for two and a half years they have been subject to bleeding. During these almost twenty years I have consulted many physicians. These have called my disease—as it was attended with an obstinate cough, and a steady as it was attended with an obstinate cough, and a steady and active pain in my side—a drupsical consumption; and though they have been skilful practitioners, they were only able to afford my case a partial and temporary relief I had many other difficulties too complicated to describ I have also used many of the mediciness that have been recommended as intallible cures for this disease, yet these all failed, and I was most emphatically growing worse. I all failed, and I was most emphatically growing worse. In this critical condition, given up by frends, and expecting, for myself, relief only in death, I was by the timely interposition of a kind Providence, turnished with your, to me, invaluable Sarsaparilla. A single bottle gave me an assurance of health, which for twenty years I had not once left. Upon taking the second, my calargement diminished, and in twelve days from the 5th October, when I commenced taking your Sarsaparilla. I was able to enjoy sleep andrest, by night, as retreshing as any I ever enjoyed whenin perfect health. Besides, I was, in this short time, relieved from all those excrutiating and unalleviated pains that had afflicted my days, as well as robbed me of my night's repose. The nicers upon my limbs are healed, the Erysipeias cured, and my size reduced neerly to my former measure.

the Eryspeias cured, and my size reduced nearly to in-former measure.

Thus much do I feel it a privilege to testify to the en-cacy of your health-restoring Sarsaparija. A thousand thanks, sirs, from one whose comfort and whose hope of future health are due, under God, to your instrumentality.

And may the same Providence that directed me to your aid, make you the happy and honored instruments of blessing others, as diseased and despairing as your much relieved and very grateful triend.

Messes. Sands—Gentlemen: If you alone were concerned in the present statement, the great inducement for making it would be removed; for of course no testimony can strengthen your own convictions in relation to the value and efficiency of your Sarsaparilla, which has already proved such a hiessing to the many hundreds who have used it. But I have looked upon the world encircling in its arms thousands bowed down with inferiogs similar to my own, who would gladly hasten to the same source that restored my health, it they were persuaded they would meet with the same happy results. Therefore, gentlemen, it is that those thousands may be convinced, and profit by their conviction as I have done, that induces me to state before the world a period of suffering such as few have known, and the permanent rehef I received from your Sarsaparilla. But howshall I begin, or how describe those excenciating agonies that seized upon my frame? Early in the month of June, 1840, I was first attacked with rhoumatism, caused, I have reason to believe, by a severe cold contracted while nursing one of my children, who was then very ill.

My suffering soon became intense, everywhere I seemed very ill.

My suffering soon became intense, everywhere I seemed diseased. For five months I was unable to walk, and to six weeks did not lie upon a hed, but was obliged to remain six weeks did not lie upon a hed, but was obliged to remain in a sitting posture, that being less agonizing than any other. My whole body was so sore and racked with pain that the slightest touch caused inexpressible distress. For a period of many months I did not sleep but two nights, and the only rest I obtained was during the day, when nature became exhausted and I tell into a sumber, from which I was soon awakened by the beating and throbbing pain. My limbs were swollen and my shoulders drawn out of place, and altogether I was rendered entirely helpless. I obtained the best medical advice, but without receiving any permaand altogether I was rendered entirely helpless. I obtained the best medical advice, but without receiving any perma-nent relief. The rheumatism being combined with a swell-ing and painful affection of the joints, rendered it still werse Tumors formed under the sam, round my head, which caused burning and lanciating pains similar to scrofula o

My groans at night caused the watchman to stop in the street as he passed by; and when many of my friends re-siding in Ponghkeepsie last visited me, they bid me fare-well, as they then thought for ever; and once the family aswent, as they usen mought for ever; and once the family as-sembled in the room to watch the last spark of life go out. But the flame of life again glated up within me; and soon after this I heard of your Sarsaparilla, and determined to try it; and behold the result. After taking one bottle the pain left me, and I was able to waik and sleep. I could examily realize the results. pain left me, and I was able to waik and seep. I count scarcely realize the transition—so sudden, so complete. Alter using four or five bottles, I was entirely cured. And are you alone, gentlemen, concerned to know it? I think not; and this language is too mild for the occasion.
